CROSSFIELD IN TABLOID

On July 21 Barbara Bills was brought home from the General Hospital after spending four weeks there.

She was amazed at the wonderful growth of pastures, flowers and crops during her absence. She is in very good spirits and on the road to recovery for which every one is rejoicing.

Lois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gordon is spending a holiday under the parental roof. Lois is employed with the law firm of Nolan, Chamberlain etc., Calgary. Also visited the home for a short time prior to leaving for the coast is Evan Gordon who has been employed on the pipe line. The Gordons have enjoyed a visit from their grandson Les.

Mrs. Hunt and daughter of Red Deer have spent a two-weeks' vacation at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mrs. Jack Conshuk.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry May have been visiting their daughter Eileen and son-in-law Leonard Pullan at Drumheller for the past week. They report that they are comfortably situated and very happy.

We are sorry to report that Allan Becker has rheumatic fever and will have to spend some time in bed.

Lorna Bland in Grade III music and Carol High in Grade III both are to be congratulated on having attained first class honours in conservatory of music exams.

On July 17 Arthur Fenwick and Lawrence Garwood motored to Rimsky, where they will visit Billy, Art's brother, his wife and family. Incidentally anticipation runs high in the sport of fishing and we will be waiting to hear about the monster that got away.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Snyder are rejoicing in the birth of a son at the Didsbury hospital on July 16.

A number of the young married couples are honoring Mrs. Keith Bannister with a miscellaneous shower on Saturday, July 29 at 3:30 p.m. in the church parlor. Everyone is welcome.

Mrs. George Sefton has left for a visit with her mother.

John Chalmers is putting a coat of green paint on the Gordon house.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Hurst left a couple of weeks ago to visit their daughter, Mrs. Helen Gross at White Salmon in the U.S.A. was called home after a week's visit, owing to the death of Mrs. W. Hurt Sr. Helen and husband Ken, were overjoyed at the visit but were disappointed it had to be so short.

The CWL held their annual picnic at O. Malyk's farm on July 9 (Sunday). Games and lunch were enjoyed by about 60 people until the rain hurried an end to a very pleasant day.

The senior group of the WA met in the United church parlor and finished a whole quilt on Friday, July 21. It is for the Red Cross, and according to Mrs. Edlund, the Red Cross is very needful of quilts.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McFadyen had a very pleasant visit from their son Harold and family who have now returned to Chicago. Archie and wife have a new car and they are sure enjoying it.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woods are sporting a brand new car.

Charlie Smart is progressing slowly at home after having an operation on his leg; he's some weeks away in Holy Cross hospital, Calgary.

Rev. Anderson is progressing after having a vericose operation on his legs. Now he has just learned that he has a cataract on one eye. It certainly seems that trouble does not come singly and we are certainly sorry that Rev. Anderson has his share.

Mr. Muir will be home for the week-end of July 15th. He is attending a university course in Edmonton—a hard grind, lots to do and little time to work in.

Grasshoppers are at work seven miles east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Jensen, together with Mr. and Mrs. Jens Levi Smith, are enjoying a motor trip to various U.S.A. points and the west coast cities of B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rowat of the Crossfield cold storage plant, left on Friday, July 14 with the latter's brother, for a visit to the coast.

Marilyn, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moir of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is recovering nicely after suffering concussion which resulted from a fall from a car.

Neighbors Help District Man In Construction

CROSSFIELD.—On July 19th and 20th, seven miles south-east of town, a crew of good neighbors were instrumental in helping Raymond Bur run a cement foundation for his house. Patmores have the contract for moving and re-estimating. Raymond intends to make alterations in his home. His wife, Olive, has some very good blue prints.

Mrs. Walter Hurt Dies At Okotoks

Mrs. Walter (Elizabeth) Hurt, of Okotoks, who died July 15, was buried Wednesday in Okotoks cemetery, under the direction of Goode Bros. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. V. Howey in Okotoks United church.

Pallbearers were: G. Bullivant, W. Thompson, P. Hughes, H. Hemus, R. Speckman and W. Lawson.

New Ontario Power Plant Goes Into Operation

Holding back a 57-mile lake, the mighty 2,400-foot dam at Des Joachims, near Ottawa, has started to function to unleash 480,000 hydro-electric horsepower for Ontario. The dam, built in three years at a cost of over $75,000,000, was officially opened by Hydro Commission Chairman Saunders, former mayor of Toronto.

Crossfield Horsewoman Still Rides Rangeland

CROSSFIELD.—Mrs. Bernie McLaughlin, better known under her maiden name of Bernie Walsh, this month paid a visit to her old home at Madden, and to her mother who lives in Calgary.

She is still a great rider and still has a carefree gait.

At the Calgary horse show in April, 1911, many will remember how she took the celebrated "Smoky," known as a bad actor over a 62' hurdle after he had proved his reputation by throwing two professional riders.

Smoky, owned by D. P. McDonald, was again taken over the hurdle in a manner which showed expert horsemanship, all in competition with masculine riders. In 1912 she won the high jump for ladies. During her years in Alberta, she won many laurels at minor fairs and picnics. She married Lorice McLaughlin and with him started a new life in New Mexico where, after three years he was electrocuted when trying to get through a fence to see how their stock had weathered a violent storm. Bernie owns 2,900 acres of ranch land, all fenced and raises pure bred Herefords. She rides many miles each day and runs her own ranch.

Her brother Harold quit riding in 1940 to operate his dude ranch in Como, Quebec, after he had won the Canadian bucking bronc championship on more than one occasion.

FWUA Group Holds July Meeting

CROSSFIELD.—The July meeting of the FWUA was held at the home of Mrs. C. Fox on Wednesday, July 12, with 12 members and two visitors present. Ten dollars was subscribed to Robert Gardner scholarship fund. In conclusion Mrs. Roy Banta, sub-director, gave an interesting report on June FWUA convention held at Olds.

The next meeting will be held in the Memorial community hall on August 16 for the purpose of honoring all the grandmothers. This is an annual event which every one enjoys.

Field Days Planned At Alberta Centres

NOTES FROM THE D. A.

By Hugh McPhail

CROSSFIELD.—Two Field Days are being planned in Carstairs and Crossfield districts that may be of interest to other districts as well.

On July 28th the Carstairs and Crossfield Grain Clubs are holding a Field Day at the R. C. Sheep Farm, 5 miles northwest of Carstairs. The Field Day begins with a picnic lunch at noon. Sheepmen have a very good farm and a well laid out and cared for farmstead. They have some good purebred herefords on the farm, also there are some test plots of cereals and forage crops.

The boys and girls will have an opportunity to judge grain and identify forage seeds.

Several short talks will be given by Club leaders and representatives of sponsoring organizations.

On August 8th we plan to hold a Horticultural Field Day at the Clarence Haven farm, 8 miles west of Crossfield. This farm is a favorite sports' visit, but for this day the chief interest will center in the orchard. Mr. P. D. Hargrave, Superintendent of the Horticultural Station at Brooks and I have planted over 50 trees in this orchard nine years ago.

This year many of the trees are loaded with fruit and I am sure this demonstration orchard will be of great interest.

This Field Day will begin with a picnic lunch at 12 noon. Mr. P. D. Hargrave and Mr. P. D. McCalla, our Provincial Horticulturist, both expect to be there and will speak and answer questions and demonstrate.

Everyone is welcome at these Field Days.

Notes from the D. A.—Hugh

Joyce Cole Weds Keith Bannister

CROSSFIELD.—With the altar of St. John's rectory tastefully decorated with pink carnations, Rev. Fr. Lynett officiated at the wedding of Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cole of Sebe, to Keith, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bannister of Crossfield at 5:00 p.m. on July 18.

Joyce, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very lovely in float length gown of white satin with Chapel veil with coronet of orange blossom and bouquet of red roses.

Miss Gwendolin Clemon of Banff, sister of the bride made a charming matron of honor, gowned in pale green formal of eyelet embroidered taffeta with matching veil and pink carnations.

Supporting the groom was Marvin Fox of Crossfield.

Following the nuptials a reception was held in the Empress banquet room where the parents received. For this occasion Mrs. Cole wore black sheer with red rose corsage and Mrs. Bannister a pale blue model complemented with corsage of pink roses.

Blake Stillings as toastmaster proposed a beautiful toast to the bride to which the groom suitably replied.

The happy young couple left for a motor trip to the U.S. and will later reside in Crossfield where Keith is a general electrician.

May Get Wonder Drug From Plants

Intense research into the possibility of producing the wonder-drug, cortisone, from plants, is being carried on in the laboratories of several Canadian provinces.

Produced up to now from animal bile acids, there is a possibility the drug may be extracted from an African vine known as Strophantus Sarementus. These vines, which entwine themselves around trees and grow to a height of 50 to 100 feet, are collected by the natives and brewed into an extract which is used to poison tips of arrows. Because of this, their cultivation by natives is forbidden in the British colonies.

PARATROOPER, seen drifting to earth in a billowing 'chute, is a student of the Henry House para-rescue school near Jasper, Alberta.

ROCKYFORD NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Ed Wilson, Billie and Mary have returned from their vacation at Sylvan Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dunsmore, with Allan and Rusty, are spending their holidays at Sylvan Lake.

Recent visitors to Rockyford included Mr. and Mrs. R. Cuniff and Roy. Mr. Cuniff was manager of the Bank of Commerce until his move to Smoky Lake.

We see that Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schultz are sporting a new red truck.

Mrs. Eileen Johnson is spending her holidays with her parents in Strathmore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fomate have returned from their trip. From all reports they had a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roppel and Mrs. Helen Wiss motored to Sylvan Lake for a few days.

Mrs. McClus is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. F. Dunsmore, for a few days.

On Wednesday, July 12, at 5 p.m., the Rockyford hotel restaurant was opened to the public. The first twenty ladies each received a corsage of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Helmbecker left Friday for a short vacation to Calgary and Banff.

Commencing August 1, the Alberta government telephone exchange will be under the management of Mrs. O. E. Kennedy. Mrs. Kennedy and her two sons have recently moved here from Eckville.

Mrs. Edna Smith, the local assistant postmistress, is now on her holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Durant are visiting in Edmonton and Daysland.

Little Wayne Fuller is recovering nicely from his tonsil operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Katterhagen spent the week-end vacationing in Banff.

Heavy Rains Hit Rockyford District

A cloudburst hit the Rockyford district about 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 19. In less than half an hour 1.35 inches of rain fell. The culverts on the west side of the highway were unable to hold all the flood waters, thus some basements were flooded. The centre of the storm was at the Albert Epe farm where 2½ inches of rain fell within half an hour. Some hall accompanied this storm but no severe damage was done.

Subways were partially ventilated by the piston action of trains driving the air through the tubes.

Writer Lauds Community Publ'n's As Papers of Outstanding Contrast

Dear Editor—This letter is to express the appreciation my wife and I feel for the excellent quality of the newspapers of Community Publications of which we are constant readers.

It is indeed refreshing to be able to pick up a newspaper in which clean, constructive news may be found upon every page. We cannot but note the contrast your publication presents in this regard compared with the majority of papers being published in this country. Why is it that so many editors seem to believe that all their readers are interested in murder, accident, robbery, tragedy, immorality—what a mess of stuff to grovel around in!

People in this day and age live under great stress—and most of us are not in need of having emphasized to us that many saddening and tragic things do take place.

Yet we also know that these things are not what we want our children to pattern in their lives, nor what we wish to experience ourselves! Therefore I say, "All credit to the South Edmonton Sun community Publications" for giving us a newspaper which we can safely and its sister newspapers of Community Publications welcome into our homes and put in our children's hands, knowing that therein we will find the emphasis placed upon the decent and the trustworthy, and character-building events in the daily history of our villages, towns, cities and our country.

After all, our society cannot function unless people are trustworthy and dependable. The very fabric of our nation depends upon the right kind of moral honesty of each and every one of us—I trust the driver of the train, bus or plane I ride upon with my life. I trust the bank when I give them my savings to keep in trust for me. I trust the teachers of my children to give them good training in character as well as good intellectual training. I trust the engineer who designs the bridge or the elevator I must use daily, and the workmen who honestly set the riverts or wire the cables.

Since these things are true, then the right greatly outweighs the rotten spots in society—and people are certainly more interested in hearing about the constructive and the innumerable decent things taking place all around us constantly than they are in hearing everlasting dinned into our ears about the rotten and their deplorable doings.

May the news editors of our daily papers and radio stations read the South Edmonton Sun and ponder these things, and mind their views of what is NEWS!

In this connection, I wish to express a word of sincere appreciation to your reporters and country correspondents, who are filling the columns with constructive news items about the people and events in the communities where they live. It is a splendid service they are rendering in this regard and I wish more newspaper men exercised the same clear-headed discrimination and sound judgement your people are using about what is worthwhile news. In conclusion, as a South Edmonton resident I wish to thank you for the service your South Edmonton Sun is performing in bringing to the attention of the city authorities needed improvements and reforms in their administration of our city government.

Your services in this connection illustrates what a great power for betterment the press can exert when controlled by those who emphasize the positive rather than the negative in their columns.

Sincerely yours,
STANLEY H. CHURCHILL,
South Edmonton.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Editor appreciates these words of encouragement, and trusts that we will be worthy of the tributes expressed.

MORE SEPARATING CAPACITY

Than Any Other Thresher on the Market
the Keck-Gonnerman Thresher

... for 75 years the Farmer's Dependable Friend!

Almost four decades of experience in building dependable equipment for farmers has been put into the construction of the new Keck-Gonnerman Thresher... with the result that this thresher has exclusive construction features which are readily appreciated by the experienced farmer.

Study These Exclusive Advantages:

- 12 foot feeder carriers that are adjustable to any desired height from 36" to 74" merely by turning an adjusting crank.
- Feeder governed by fly-ball speed governor and volume control governor.
- All necessary adjustments for good threshing can be made while machine is in operation.
- Furnished with 12 bar cylinders on 28x48 and smaller machines and 15 bar cylinders on 28x50 and larger machines.
- Cylinder and blower shaft mounted on double row, self-aligning ball bearings.
- Equipped with 2 beaters for more efficient operation.
- Adjustable traveling rope chain back of cylinder elevates straw over separating grate and helps to distribute straw evenly onto racks. The rope chain added to the large capacity and grate area gives the Keck-Gonnerman thresher the largest separating area of any machine on the market.
- Straw racks are divided and are evenly balanced, practically eliminating vibration of the machine.
- Six rows of steel lifting fingers operate up and down 215 times per minute while the rack moves back and forth at the same speed. The fingers toss the straw upward, tear it apart, and shake out any remaining grain.
- Heavily constructed channel and angle-iron frame put together with hot rivets. Frame will remain rigid after years of use.
- Blower shaft equipped with bull horns placed in position to auger and force a steady stream of straw into the blower. Practically impossible to choke blower.
- Full width door in rear permits sieves to be changed with minimum of time and effort.
- Heavy galvanized sheet-steel construction. Water- and weather-light decks.
- The Kay-Gee weigher elevator is of belt and bucket construction.

Alberta Public Opinion Backs Ottawa In Korean Crisis

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

With one hundred million dollars slated for defence, and the dispatch of Canadian ships and planes to the Korean war theater, Canada's national government has taken unprecedented steps to meet the international crisis.

Throwing its weight behind the United Nations decision to stop the Korean aggression, Ottawa's action is meeting with general approval throughout the country.

Public opinion in Alberta is as solidly behind the government's action as in other parts of the country.

Ceilings have been lifted on the strength of the military forces, and a call has gone out for enlistment in all three branches of the service.

The $100,000,000 injection into the defence economy, which will consequently step up industrial production and reduce unemployment will bring 1950's budget to about $525,000,000.

The $10,000,000,000 Truman has asked Congress for will in addition be partly spent in Canada, through the joint military program shared by Canada and the U.S.

On a population basis, the Canadian fund for new defence requirements is slightly in excess of

So far, three Canadian destroyers and the RCAF's number 426 Transport Squadron (an eastern group) are the only forces from this country that have been dispatched to Asia.

No ground forces will be sent, "at this stage" as they are needed to maintain defensive bases in Canada.

Present strength of the Canadian services is about 47,000 men, and the call has gone out for an additional 8,000 volunteers for the regular forces.

Ottawa wants men between the ages of 17 and 29 for active service to commission more fighting ships in the navy, to increase the strength of the armed corps and the infantry, and to provide additional air crew and ground crew in the RCAF.

Volunteers are also required for the reserve forces, to increase the strength of all reserve units of the three services and to attain active force standards of proficiency through intensive spare-time training.

As outlined in this newspaper last week, Ottawa hopes to build up a nation-wide corps of citizen soldiers for any emergency, and the reserve forces are the natural vehicle for this project.

On the financial front, experts are telling the public to get ready for a boost in taxes next year, and if for possible rationing—if—and only if—the war threat grows, there may be additional instances of hoarding increase.

It is hinted that the government's plan for increased taxation—should such a step be necessary—is simply a "pay-as-you-go." This is favored rather than a war loan, which would mean an expansion of the national debt, now totalling about $11 billion.

Crucial international developments of the past few weeks have brought the world closer to the brink of actual conflict than at any time since the last war.

Western governments are hoping that their whole-hearted support of the United Nations will show that there exists a strong international body ready to put teeth into its pleas for peace.

Recent rains have improved Alberta's grain outlook. Grain of this height at this time of the year is rare indeed. This picture was snapped on a southern Alberta farm where irrigation schemes added to ideal weather to produce an early crop.

Oil Boom Changes Face Of Small Alberta Town

What happens to an isolated community when an oil boom sweeps the country? Change and development of Redwater, paralleling the growth of the Alberta oil industry, is an outstanding example of what oil can do to a little town.

Two years ago it was a forgotten town on an oil but forgotten rail line. When the first well was spudded in October, 1948, oil workers poured in, and shacks and huts of every variety sprung up amidst the swollen community.

As the search broadened out, permanent buildings began to replace the shacks. More office space and homes began to go up, a village council was formed, along with a Board of Trade and a Women's Institute.

Today there's two theaters, a newspaper, the Redwater Review, a fine big hotel, and countless new stores and buildings.

And next week Redwater is celebrating the commemoration of the first oil discovery, the town is staging a gale two day festival, featuring the crowning of a queen and a $550 baseball tournament.

Although already some of the drilling crews are moving away, Redwater isn't likely to wither away like Turner Valley towns.

There's enough oil under Redwater to keep 800 wells producing for years and it looks as if the town is going to settle down to a comfortable rate of growth as a small industrial city.

Greatest Canadian

Regardless of how individual Canadians rated Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King during his life time, the history books will for years to come, accord him the title, Greatest Canadian.

The former prime minister was great because of his personal qualities. A student of public affairs, he was from the very start an ardent student of sociology and worked during his lifetime to better the social conditions of his fellow Canadians. Greater advance in social reform was made during his participation in the public life of Canada than in all other periods combined.

Mr. King proved his greatness in his ability to hold together the Canadian people, scattered over thousands of miles, and made up of diverse racial origins and religious beliefs. No other nation on earth is so scattered geographically, or gathered from so many different parts of the world, yet so united in aims and purposes today.

The man who held the prime ministership longer than any other man was great, too, because of his successful political career. A Liberal through and through, he preached and practised the gospel of Liberalism throughout his lifetime, without lapsing into reactionary measures so common today among political leaders.

A practical leader, this Greatest Canadian was a man of high ideals. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and on at least one public occasion reminded his listeners that he was a "convinced" Presbyterian. Yet he participated freely with other religious groups in their conventions and celebrations, when it was possible to accept their invitations, and as in many other ways proved his tolerance and understanding and respect for the beliefs and opinions of others.

Idealistic, he returned to French Canada the mantle of leadership which he had received from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he laid it down in November, 1948, by wisely choosing Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent.

He served Canada well. He was a great Canadian. We are certain that, of all the tributes being paid to him, he would hold none other tribute so dearly.

The Rains Came

Not too soon, perhaps, and maybe just a little late to do the most good, but just the same we're glad that "the rains came".

Here in Alberta we have just about every type of topography from flat plains, to rolling foothills to mountain majesty and back to rugged bush land and forests. Wherever we live in the favored province, we need rain, at the right time each year.

Perhaps if government could control rainfall it would be a good thing. All we would have to do is get a "million dollar downpour" would be to put the pressure on our hard-pressed M.L.A.s. Then we could stand back and grumble that the rain storm should have come at night instead of during the day. We could complain that it rained too hard or not enough. The government spoilt the picnic or stampede.

Fortunately for all politicians, God Himself holds the rains in His hands, to release as He sees fit. We can be thankful that not often has the rain blessing been entirely withheld when we needed it most. And we did nothing to get them.

We could help things a bit, though, with irrigation. The snows fall on the mountains to melt in September and then they are melted and rush down from the Rockies to the sea. By taking this otherwise wasted water and spreading it among crops and gardens, the Alberta farmer can grow bigger and better crops, with less rainfall.

At best, irrigation is not a perfect substitute for rain. But like insurance it's a good thing to have when you need it.

Ask the Man Who Owns One

By T. W. PUE

One of the most famous phrases coined in the advertising world had something to do with diamond-studded millionaires driving around in the American version of Rolls-Royce with a look of smug satisfaction on their well-fed faces.

The Packard Motor Car Company has sold more Packards since 1902 by saying "Ask the man who owns one." Nevertheless the Ford Motor Company which sold flivvers for as little as $395.00 a piece made more money than Packard ever banked with $10,000.00 automobiles.

Henry Ford was a genius in his own rights, by acting on a very simple principle: the idea that the people of the world want cheap, dependable transportation.

Well, Henry Ford is dead and his successors in the Ford and other Canadian and U.S. companies have largely forgotten the early principles which made their industry great.

They are still offering for sale Canadian automobiles that, in sheer excess weight and luxury outclassed the limousine you used to ask the man who owns one (whatever it was you asked him).

The sooner Canadian manufacturers get back to a low-priced, four cylinder car, selling for about $1,200.00, the sooner Canadian people will stop buying other cars. We don't want any embargo on shipment of low-priced auto from Britain.

But I seriously doubt if our Canadian firms will wake up in time. They are still lulled to sleep down in Windsor and Detroit by the greatest demand for new automobile units of all time. Their argument would go like this: Why make small units for $1,200.00 when we can sell all we can make at $2,400.00?

Meanwhile, however, Austin and Morris cars are capturing the six-cylinder market with four cylinders and making a future four-cylinder car market for years to come.

It's a Matter of Habit

The things we humans do, we do mostly because of habit. We keep on doing the same old things the same old way, day after day, just because we're used to doing those things.

We don't usually change habits until we're forced into it. Consequently it took a war, an automobile shortage and sterling devaluation to get most of us even consider driving a small British car. But now that we've BEEN FORCED into the habit of driving small cars, something just as drastic will be required to force us out of the habit.

Unable to get a new Canadian car, although our name was on dealer's lists in Edmonton since 1947, we bought a Morris Minor from Mill Creek Motors whose headquarters is in South Edmonton. Right off the bat we saved $800.00 on the purchase price of our new car. And no one told us we had to buy a lot of useless accessories to get possession. We didn't have to wait three years. It took two days to select the car we wanted and take delivery of it.

It seats four full-grown persons and baggage comfortably. We get upwards of 45 miles to the gallon and actually drove 200 miles for $1.93 in gas.

Instead of paying $6.00 to fill the tank it costs us $2.10 and with that we can go just as far.

Alberta license fee for our 1948 Hudson is $28.00. The Morris Minor costs $10.00.

Oil consumption is negligible but when we change oil it takes $1.25 instead of $2.50.

The Morris Minor rides as comfortably as any other car I've driven and cruises easily at 55 miles per hour.

The battery is as big as the motor, which means we have plenty of electric power on tap at all times to start in any weather.

Just figure out, as I have done, the savings and advantages of driving a small car and make your own comparisons. If you can overcome your old habit of driving a limousine when all you need is a car, you too will probably wonder when Canadian auto manufacturers will announce their new four-cylinder "minor" models.

Scriptural Meditations

By Ainsley Blair

Through nature and revelation, through His Providence, and by the influence of His Spirit, God speaks to us. But these are not enough; we need also to pour out our heart to Him. In order to have spiritual life and energy, we must have active intercourse with the Heavenly Father.

Our minds may be drawn out toward Him; we may meditate upon His works. His Word and His blessings; but this is not in the fullest sense, communion with Him. In order to commune with God, we must have something to say to Him concerning our actual life.

Point of No Return*COMMENT FROM THE PRESS*Oil Monies For Oil Roads

From Edmonton Journal

Complaints about travelling conditions following recent rains indicate that improvement work is needed on some of the roads in Edmonton oilfield areas. For the sake of both oil operations and tourist travel, the necessary highways and roads in these areas should be kept in good condition, and the provincial government might well devote to this end some of its treasury returns from the sale of oil right.

In just over two and a half years these returns have reached the enormous sum of more than $47,000,000. Slightly more than half of this amount has been received during the first half of this year. More than $1,000,000 of it has come from Redwater auction of crown rights, and approximately $2,630,000 from Woodland township sales.

It would be eminently fair to apportion part of this money to needed improvement and maintenance of oilfield highways and roads, especially since some roads in the Redwater area are reported to give particular cause for complaint. It would seem only just, too, to assist the municipalities concerned, in this part of their road work, for traffic on their main roads, at any rate, is abnormally heavy and it is two provinces-wide industries, oil and tourist travel, that are responsible for the extra load.

Probably a moderate amount of additional work could bring the roads in these areas to scratch. Moreover, maintenance on some of them—those leading into specific areas that are bound to be drilled out in due course and left to produce through pipelines—would not have to be continued indefinitely. Thus the required sum would be relatively small.

Safety In Flying

From Financial Post

Grant W. G. McConachie, president, Canadian Pacific Airlines, used an arresting illustration to demonstrate flying passenger safety records in an address to the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association. He said that if a baby were put into a plane at birth and were flown continuously at 200 miles per hour, it would be 57 years old before it experienced its first crack-up. He added that a man could stand 200 degrees temperature for 33 minutes and 240 degrees for 23 minutes—provided he wore long underwear. We'd imagine, though that his breathing would be in short pants.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON:*Samuel Ranked as One Of Bible's Greatest Men

Next to Moses, Samuel is considered the greatest leader of Israel.

Coming upon the scene when religious and national life was at a low ebb, his influence and deeds laid the solid foundations upon which the early kings of the monarchy accomplished the greatest expense and glory of their people's history.

Samuel was a wonderful character, a man willing to serve, and a righteous servant both of Jehovah and his people.

He was the prayer-child of his mother, Hannah. From birth he had been dedicated to the divine service.

In early boyhood he was presented to religious duty, left in charge of the prophet Eli, who trained him. Performing the daily tasks connected with the temple and the care of the aging priest, Samuel was kept busy, but at the age of twelve Jehovah directly touched his own heart making him a mouthpiece and using him for serious condemnation.

There was much in Eli's life which was pathetic. He seemed to have been in many ways a good old man, but he failed to properly train his sons. Hophni and Phineas, Eli's served faithfully as a judge, but his sons placed in the same high office, were faithless and corrupt. For this dereliction, Eli and his household were condemned but the humble submission of the old priest to the punishment of God raises considerable doubt at his ultimate harm.

As Samuel grew into manhood, the Israelites met with severe disaster. The Philistines were aggressive and defeated them. Thinking to help themselves, the leaders decreed that the sacred ark should be brought into the next battle, hoping its presence would be as effective as at Jerico with Joshua.

But, all in vain, Jehovah demonstrated again that it was righteousness in human hearts, not formal worship, that he expected.

The Philistines captured the ark, killed Eli's two sons, and for twenty years oppressed the Israelites. Eli, after forty years of service, died when the news of the great defeat reached him. Samuel's influence grew during the occupation and ascendancy of the Philistines. At Ramah he set up an altar and worshipped the true God, not Baal or Astart, fostered by the invaders and accepted by many of the Jews. Finally, he called the Israelites to gather at Mizpah, warning the multitude to bring many of them back to Jehovah and his worship. The enemy gathered and a great battle took place. Victory crowned the efforts of the children of Israel, and with it Samuel's power and authority became nationally recognized.

As prophet and judge, Samuel ruled over the people of Israel until late in life. He established the circuit, going from Ramah to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah to hold court and to judge for his fellow prophets, in order that the young men might be taught the true faith and proper practices.

Throughout his active life Samuel was a pillar of right-living, honesty and piety, winning the veneration and respect of the people throughout the land. Strange to say, he made the same mistake in life as Eli—he failed in the rearing of his sons.

Finally, the Israelites complained, not of Samuel but of his sons. They were greedy and corrupt. The people demanded a king like other nations, and came to Samuel with the demands. Following the advice and dictates of Jehovah, Samuel granted the request, seeking the best possible man for the place. Before doing so, Samuel warned the Israelites of the many dangers and hardships of monarchy, an analysis of the faults of this form of government, which remains true until this day. The Israelites, however, continued to exercise a great influence over events, however, for the people respected his righteous life and honest character.

In finally presenting the new king to the Israelites, Samuel made a noteworthy farewell address, fit to rank with the greatest similar communications. Recalling his lifetime in their midst, he challenged any to show that he falsely acted or wrongfully took their goods. As a public official, Samuel had accepted no graft or neagriff. In any government self-seeking officials are dangerous, when they use their positions selfishly. We need more recognition of the obligation of public office and the increased responsibility to the trust it represents.

Letter to Louisa

Old Enough to Work
But Not to Enjoy Life

Dear Louisa—I am going on eighteen years of age and my parents treat me like a child, although I have two sisters younger than I am.

I work Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights after school and all day Saturday and yet when I ask to go out on a Saturday or Sunday night, they say that I may not go and that I am always away.

Sur I am always away but I am working. I have no pleasure at all and my life is very miserable. They are always complaining about the money I spend even though I spend only $1.00 a week for ice cream and other refreshments.

They refuse to let me go to dances or to movies as that costs too much and still I may not go on a date anymore and cannot travel with my girl friends. When I do go out, I have to be in by 9 or 9:30. I have my driver's license, but they never let me drive the car, even when they go along.

All the other girls, three and four years younger than I have boy friends and go out on dates, but I cannot date or have a boy friend and yet they are complaining all the time. I feel like I am not wanted. What shall I do?

WONDERING

Answer:

Your parents are certainly acting in a ridiculous manner. Surely if you are old enough to be working out at night, you should be allowed a good part of what you make and some liberty to see your friends, whether they be boys or girls.

Surely parents have the idea that they can protect a girl and keep her home by not allowing her to go with friends but this is one of the easiest ways of making her run away from home.

No girl is going to put up with such treatment long. As soon as she finishes school, she will get a job and move to some place where she can do as she pleases.

How much better it would be for both parents and daughter if the parents would try to make her life happier! Allow her money for the movies twice a week and let her have dates with nice boys. Certainly there are not object desirable companions.

Wake up parents before it is too late! Try to make home pleasant for your children, so they will be satisfied to stay with you even when they grow older.

Alberta Forestry Tour Attracts Large Audiences

Annual forest conservation tour conducted by the Canadian Forestry Association in co-operation with the Alberta Forest Service is now visiting communities in the forested areas of the province. The meetings are attracting the largest audiences ever enjoyed on these tours.

Travelling by truck, a gift of General Motors of Canada, settlements and forest communities all across middle and northern Alberta are on the itinerary. To some points the forestry program brings to the people the only movies shown in the area during the year. With the splendid co-operation of the press and radio, local residents are attending for some miles around, with record numbers present. Often entire families walk in to the meeting, coming from 2 to 6 miles to attend.

Sound films show the value of Alberta's timber resources, how they provide employment, essential products, and in making homes for wild life and a background for the tourist industry. The part forests play in regulating stream flow is stressed, as the future of irrigation in the province depends on a constant supply of water, and green forests are essential in providing adequate and permanent watersheds.

Association speakers stress the need for maintaining a balance of forests, on the weaker soils, when opening up northern areas for farm settlement. They emphasize that to destroy all forest resources will place a heavy handicap on the future prosperity of agriculture.

Meetings will be held at Grassland, Sept. 28; Flamborough, Sept. 29; Wandering River, Sept. 30; Lac la Biche, Oct. 2; and McMurtry and Watertways, Oct. 19.

The narrow roads where two cars could barely pass without touching each other are being replaced by splendid wide highways on which six or eight cars can collide at once.

More Power To You!

SAYS EVA CRUMMERY

FAMILY FINANCES: According to a recent survey on family expenditure Mom may be losing her grip on the family purse strings!

The old axiom that women spend 85 per cent of the family budget just doesn't seem to be true any longer. Actually Mom spends 55 per cent of the amount while Dad and the children spend the other 45 per cent. According to the statistics obtained, 85 per cent of the men help with grocery shopping to some extent at least, while 20 per cent are responsible for all of it. Another interesting fact brought out, is that men buy one-third of the electrical appliances.

But maybe Mamma wants it that way. It takes one chore off her hands. It is true, too, that a meal can be prepared in the time it takes to make a trip to the store, proving of course that she does not have to spend all day in the kitchen. Mamma, however, and there isn't any reason why she should if we keep a list handy to let the rest of the family know just what is needed around the house.

Perhaps one reason more men are shopping is because of the shorter work week. Another one that the wily little home-maker knows, is that it gives the man of the house a better insight into the actual cost of those items which make that cost-of-living go up so high. Would they could do more about it! In any case it appears that most women welcome less grip on the grocery money when they obtain more under-standing of where the food dollar goes.

Even if the food costs are high, they are still cheaper than doctor's and hospital bills. Good food goes a long way toward providing better health. We build strong bodies by means of what we put into them, just like a well built house needs good materials, so it won't warp or crack. We should be thankful, too, that we CAN get so many things when others in different parts of the world are unable to do so.

While we are handling out bouquets to the men for what we have a lot for which we thank our men folk! Do we realize that we still are using the elbow-grease to get our clothes clean if it were not for them? And they have invented ALL of the appliances we use in our homes. When they are not content with what they have, they keep on improving them in order to make them suit us better. What a boon refrigeration, and pasteurization is to the daily housewife. Men are great for doing things the easy way! With their help, more and more of us are availing ourselves of an open-minded approach to the job in hand.

SHORT STORY:

A Dreamer's Holiday

It seemed hours since I had left the dreary outpost. The wind howled and raged, the dogs lagged, and I felt a drowsiness creeping over me.

"Mush Major, mush!" I yelled into the blinding storm. I followed closely behind the provision-laden sled which was drawn by six of the forces' fastest huskies. My skis dragged heavily over the snow, leaving tracks which were immediately eaten up by the blinding storm.

A weight at my right hip reminded me that I had a job to do. I tried to think of other things as I plunged on and on into an endless misery. Suddenly the dogs stopped. One of them howled—a piercing howl which set my nerves tingling. Without warning, pain ripped through my arm. Gunshots cracked in the night. I grasped my own gun and fired blindly

Pilot calling rear navigator into the storm. Then I lunged forward into endless tons of snow. Down-don... down went. Suddenly the ground came rushing up at a terrific rate. I hunched forward in the cockpit, gripped the rudder, shoved over the control stick and nosed the plane skyward. I yelled madly at the intercom, "Pilot calling rear navigator; Pilot calling rear navigator;"

Crossfield Man Wed At Coast

CROSSFIELD.—A pretty wedding ceremony of local interest was solemnized at the Brighouse United church on Saturday, July 15th, when Miss Dilys McNaught, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McNaught of Lulu Island, Vancouver, became the bride of Reginald W. Belshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Belshaw of Crossfield. The church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers. The Rev. A. D. Carr officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked charming in a dress of nylon marquetté with a skirt of train, length and a veil held in place with a Mary Queen of Scot coronet. She also wore a gold wrist watch and pendant, the gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of red roses and carnations. She was attended by the Misses Isobel and Dorothy Abercrombie, nieces of the bride who were attired in dresses of mauve and green, also by two little misses, Margaret Lee and Margie Lynn, nieces of the bride, who were attired in similar colors and acted as flower girls. The groom was attended by Mack McLeod, who acted as best man. John McNaught and Martin Walsh acted as ushers. During the signing of the register Miss B. Rogers sang "Because," in a very pleasant manner. After the ceremony a reception was held in the Brighouse hall for upwards of 150 guests who on entering were welcomed by the bride and groom's parents. During the evening wires of congratulations were read from Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Britain, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, also from Mr. and Mrs. Robertson of Victoria, B.C., friends of the bride and groom. The toast to the bride was given by Mr. Bowes, life-long friend of the bride. Mr. Chas. McNaught acted as master of ceremonies. The happy couple afterwards left on a motor trip to Banff via U.S.A. and Crossfield, Alberta. The bride chose as her travelling attire a suit of wine colored gabardine with a shorter coat of white. After a honeymoon of two weeks they will make their future home in Lulu Island, Vancouver. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Belshaw, Crossfield; Mr. and Mrs. C. Marston, Shirley and Glen Marston, all of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. M. Turner of Victoria, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Marston and daughter, Roslyn of Victoria.

Eastern Liberals Reported Gaining

Recent public opinion survey conducted by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion in Ontario and Quebec, shows sharp increases in favor of the Liberal party in those provinces.

Accurate cross-sections of the population were asked the following question:

"If a provincial election were held today, would you vote for a candidate of . . ." and then followed a list of the chief provincial parties in each province.

In Quebec, 46 per cent said they would vote Liberal, compared with 41 per cent expressing confidence in the Union Nationale party, and 13 per cent in others. Liberal support showed a marked gain from 36 per cent in 1948.

In Ontario, 40 per cent told canvassers they would vote Liberal, compared with 34 per cent favoring Conservatives, 14 per cent CCF and 2 per cent others. Liberal sentiment had increased from 28 per cent in 1948.

CARS BY THEMSELVES ARE NOT KILLERS

The modern automobile, given reasonable attention and care, is mechanically safe. But you can't always trust the man or woman at the wheel.

Most of the traffic accidents this season — by a wide margin — will be due to HUMAN FAILURE . . . not anything going wrong with the car itself. Drivers will fall asleep. They will pass on hills and curves. They will take their eyes off the road; they will do other foolish things, forgetting that the impact of collision at 60 miles per hour is precisely the same as driving a car off the roof of a fourteen-story building.
